

The Privacy Policy

1. In our digital world, for us, data protection means the protection of the personal information of our customers, business partners, prospects and employees.
2. Safeguarding the personality rights and privacy of each individual is the basis of any successful business relationship and cooperation for us.
3. To guarantee the personality rights of each individual, we collect and process personal data only in accordance with statutory regulations.
4. Breitenfeld Edelstahl AG undertakes to use personal data only for the purposes required and defined to that end.
5. When handling all categories of personal data, we undertake to ensure full transparency at any time.
6. Once business-related or statutory retention periods have expired, personal data will be erased or retained or archived in anonymised form.
7. Breitenfeld Edelstahl AG does not use for any purpose whatsoever any personal data without the explicit written consent of each individual.
8. All necessary technical and organisational precautions are taken to protect the data against unauthorised access, processing, dissemination, erasure, loss, alteration or destruction.
9. Data secrecy applies to business and trade secrets and to personal data. We undertake to handle such data confidentially inside and outside the company.
10. The data protection officer of Breitenfeld Edelstahl AG is the visible sign, both internally and externally, that data protection is an active element of the company's success.
